STD Prevention Education Training • May 31 & June 1 A FREE Two-Day Training

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

Join us for two days of learning and practicing effective and fun strategies for educating about STD prevention. This training will prepare educators to teach people in the Latino community about sex education, sexually transmitted diseases, condom use and much more! This interactive and comprehensive training is especially designed for Spanish speaking or Bilingual educators and will be conducted in Spanish. Participants should be proficient in the Spanish Language.

OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this training, participants will be able to:

1. Name two teaching guidelines for providing STD prevention education to Spanish-speaking adult/adolescent populations.
2. Name two theoretical models that can be integrated into education about safer sex and STD prevention.
3. Identify three strategies for educating Spanish-speaking adult/adolescent populations about safer sex and STD prevention.
4. Demonstrate their ability to teach about safer sex and STD prevention through "teach-back" sessions.

ABOUT THE TRAINERS

Lizbeth Cruz is the Bilingual Sexual Health Educator for Planned Parenthood of Greater Northern New Jersey's (PPGNNJ) Center for Family Life Education (CFLE). She provides sexual health education throughout Union and Bergen Counties to high-risk youth and Spanish-speaking populations. Jescenia Oviedo is the Sexual Health Educator/Youth Specialist for PPGNNJ's CFLE. Jescenia teaches sexual health to high-risk youth in Plainfield, NJ and the surrounding region. Together Jescenia and Lizbeth played an integral role in developing and reviewing the 2003 CFLE publication Enseñando el Sexo Seguro (Teaching Safer Sex), and trained professionals to use the manual at bilingual workshops. They coauthored the 2004 SIECUS Report article, "Teaching Safer Sex: In English and en Español."
